RKSS to direct horror-thriller. Gunpowder & Sky has partnered with Brightlight Pictures to produce Summer Of '84. The horror-thriller is set in 1984 and centres on 15-year-old neighbourhood conspiracy theorist Davey Armstrong who suspects his police officer neighbour might be the serial killer all over the local news. He and his three best friends begin an investigation that soon puts them in danger. François Simard, Anouk Whissell and Yoann-Karl Whissell of RKSS (Roadkill Superstar), known for 2015's Turbo Kid, will direct the film that is set to go into production this July for an end-of-year release date. Shawn Williamson, CEO of Brightlight Pictures, and Jameson Parker are producing the film. Matt Leslie co-produced and wrote alongside writing partner Stephen J. Smith. Their screenplay was featured on the 2016 'Blood List' selection of the best dark genre screenplays voted on by industry professionals. "How could we not bet on a writer associated with Straight Outta Compton and the directors of Turbo Kid to tell a twisted tale about a peaceful community where a serial killer threatens to shatter the suburban dream," Van Toffler, CEO and co-founder of Gunpowder & Sky, said. "It's a bold, unexpected story told by breakthrough filmmakers, and it's exactly the kind of novel film we want to make at Gunpowder & Sky." "Summer Of '84 taps into the curiosity we all had as kids about what goes on behind closed doors," Smith said. Leslie added: "While writing, we tried to evoke the feeling of a genuine 80s...more detail

Straight Outta Compton Lawsuit: Greenberg Traurig Rips Disqualification Bid

Greenberg Traurig, the law firm representing co-defendant NBCUniversal in the defamation lawsuit targeting the N.W.A biopic Straight Outta Compton, is facing a disqualification motion over a supposed conversation that happened 25 years old concerning Ice Cube's "No Vaseline." On Monday, the firm had its own outside counsel file a blistering response that ran the gamut from confidentiality to ethics. The lawsuit has barely survived the judge's cuts as well as the death of the plaintiff, ex-N.W.A manager Jerry Heller. Now, Heller's nephew is seeking to use an alleged 1992 conversation whereby Greenberg Traurig partner Joel Katz supposedly advised Heller about..... [\[read more\]](#)

SNL To Celebrate Mothers Day With Betty White, SNL Moms

The rumors are true, and yes, Facebook had something to do with it. USA Today is reporting that Betty White will be hosting the May 8 broadcast of Saturday Night Live after refusing the spot for years. White, whose legendary status has persisted to a younger generation through her role in The Proposal, playing beer pong with Jimmy Fallon, and, yes, those Golden Girls reruns on Lifetime, became the center of a Facebook campaign to get her to host after the debut of her new Snickers ad during the Super Bowl. And Lorne Michaels couldn't sound happier about it. The..... [\[read more\]](#)

SNLs Ladies Night: Yes, Women Are Funny

Tonight is Saturday Night Live's second-last show of its 35th season, and also, hands down, its biggest: Newly-recelebrated old-school superstar Betty White is hosting what has become the Mother's Day show featuring SNL's history of funny, funny ladies, which means the return of some top alumnae like Amy Poehler, Maya Rudolph, Rachel Dratch, Ana Gasteyer, and Molly Shannon. And of course Tina Fey. The "women aren't funny" meme is pretty dead by now, killed by the relentless dominance of Fey in pretty much every comedic endeavor she tries, plus people like Poehler, and Sarah Silverman, and Chelsea Handler, and Jenna..... SNLs Deleted Scenes: Debbie Downer, Bronx Beat and the Times Square Bomber

One of the best things about bringing back beloved SNL alums is the potential return of their beloved characters - Ana Gasteyer's Topless Martha Stewart, Amy Poehler's Amber, the One-Legged Hypoglycemic, Maya Rudolph's Donatella, Molly Shannon's Mary Katharine Gallagher, Rachel Dratch's Harry Potter. We didn't get those characters last night - I was pulling for Topless Martha Stewart! - but we did get a selection of returning favorites in the form of next-day web-only videos (i.e. those cut from dress rehearsal). Sometimes the web-only vids contain the real gems - like Andy Samberg's ultra-profane Rahm Emanuel - and here it..... [\[read more\]](#)

Was SNLs Times Square Bomber Sketch Cut Because of A Politico Leak?

Saturday night's SNL was a packed affair, with fan-favorite guest host Betty White, returning SNLers Tina Fey, Amy Poehler, Ana Gasteyer, Molly Shannon and Rachel Dratch, plus musical guest Jay-Z, and of course the regular players - it's no surprise that there were simply too many good sketches to make it to air. Classic sketches like "Debbie Downer" and "Bronx Beat" ended up as web-only extras - along with a funny sketch lampooning the Times Square bomber. All funny - except the Times Square bomber sketch had been leaked to Politico's Patrick Gavin earlier that day. That's unusual. Tweets from..... [\[read more\]](#)
